Student centric methods, such as experiential learning, participative learning and problem solving methodologies are used for enhancing learning experiences.

Guest Lectures

In the academic year 2023-24, V.S.R. Govt Degree & P.G College, Movva, organized a series of Guest Lectures to enrich the learning experience of students. These lectures featured industry experts, scholars, and professionals who shared their insights and real-world experiences related to various subjects. By exposing students to diverse perspectives and current trends, guest lectures enhanced their understanding of theoretical concepts and their applications in practical scenarios. Faculty facilitated discussions, encouraging students to engage with the speakers and ask questions, which further stimulated their interest and curiosity. Overall, guest lectures provided valuable opportunities for networking and deepening students' academic and professional knowledge.

Enclosed are sample documentary records showcasing activities from various departments.

ACTIVITY AT A GLANCE

Date & Time	25-09-2023 12.40 to 1.20 pm
Title of the Activity	Career Counselling-Self-Introduction
Conducted by	Smt. Y. Suneetha Dept. of English
Total No of Students	19
No of Participants	16
Programme	I BSc
Venue	R.No.210
Objectives	Self-introduction helps other people to know about your identity, personality, and other essential things related to you. A good self-introduction should cover all aspects of the person as it creates a positive impression on others to have better connections in the future.
Outcomes	It gives basic details about who you are and your background. The goal of a self-introduction is to provide a quick overview of your personality, interests, skills, education and experience. It allows others to get to know you in a friendly, professional way. A good self-introduction should last 1-2 minutes
Brief Report	When introducing yourself in an interview, you want to give a brief summary of who you are, your background, and why you're interested in the job. Start with your name and a greeting, then mention your education, relevant experience, and any unique qualities or skills you have. Self introduction is useful for job or scholarship interviews, an organization meeting where you are new, or even the first day of class. You want to isolate a few aspects of your life, personality, or beliefs that reflect favorably on you. This is often called impression management.
